The aspiration to become an entrepreneur drove me to the showbiz. A firm believer by nature, belief struck me in the form of Encore in the year 2002. Leaping into a trade, less known then, was a challenge, making this journey even more difficult; but a strong will power and vision paved the success path. The journey has been of ups and downs, but my focus to deliver to my clients keeps me moving.

Congratulations to team Encore for completing 18 years in event management and being among the very few companies in the industry to be an adult! I am lucky to have seen the company grow from age 0 to 18 and can vouch for the quality job they do and the lowest rate they can get for any artist booking. Team led by Avinash Singhanian managed my Silver Wedding Anniversary in a classy manner and flowing flawlessly. Looking forward that God gives me more opportunities to Celebrate Life and definitely for managing those events it will be ONLY ENCORE!

It's great to know that Encore Events has completed 18 years! It's been so many years and Avinash has been a part of all our celebrations throughout. He becomes like a family member. He has done all the events for us; all the weddings in the family, our housewarming, our anniversary. It has always been great to have him around and he has taken all the care to ensure that all the events are successful. He puts in all the hard work and it shows in all our events where guests have enjoyed, had great fun and have always said nice things about the event. All the best wishes to the entire team.

It was June 2015 when we completed our 25 years of blissful marriage and decided to celebrate it in style with our friends and family. After an extensive search, we decided to zero down upon Encore Events. From venue finalization (JW Marriott Goa), to entertainers, to managing the guests – they did all with perfection & style. The two days' event is one of the most memorable time of our life and our guests till date remember the time spent together. The whole event had a touch of personal affection and Encore Events team ensured that it was smooth and flawless. They delivered on every single promise and left us with innumerable memorable moments. To sum up we can say that Encore delivers with a smile and the host can relax and enjoy the event in peace. We wish Encore Events all the best and will surely go to them for our next event.
